they have not seen the danger of their fiscal policy, so let me direct it to their attention in the hope that they may in the future be able to make the necessary changes to justify their patriotic aspirations. Until that time it is futile for them to appeal to anyone on patriotic grounds. I have seen foreign nations offering Great Britain better trade agreements, better trade terms than Canada does. So we have this conference whirling up not as a step towards worst trade with lowering barriers, with improved general world conditions, but in the contrary we have it well described by one of those brilliant British journalists as from within, "after four weeks of sleep, the crucifiers engaged therein relit without having accomplished their designs, but consoled with the honours of war in a peaceful formula and after exchanging gifts of goodwill." Another one, perhaps not so subtle in his references, but more direct in his language, said that this was merely "a compromise filled with the seed of future dispute and friction."

To sum up this particular part of the agreement, it is in my opinion a ruthless destroying of the potential possibilities of reaching satisfactory international agreements at the world economic conference to be held at some unknown time in the future. It will mean that as long as the treaty terms are observed, that I do not think they will be observed; I do not think they can be observed, and I will touch upon this matter later on. I paraphrase the words of a well known British publicist when I say that it is one thing to agree with another government or nation that both will reduce or remove customs duties which impede the exchange of commodities, but it is another thing to agree that for a term of years higher tariffs will be imposed against each other. That is exactly what is sought to be done by this agreement. It is simply an agreement between the United Kingdom and this country to impose tariffs which are higher than those which existed before; it is an agreement to impede world trade. Not only is this true of the United Kingdom agreement but it is true also of the South African, the Australian and New Zealand agreements. So we have an existing high tariff placed upon us under the guise of preferences. That conclusion is inescapable if one examines the clauses of the treaty. Soon we may come to the conclusion that far from providing, as Mr. Baldwin and other British delegates purported to do, the liberation of trade from the strangulation of tariffs, the general result of the conference has been, in my opinion, that the British commonwealth of nations has erected higher tariffs against the world and impeded world recovery.

What of patriotism? Common sense and experience have indicated, Mr. Speaker, that is to those who will really observe things as they are and arrive at truthful conclusions from them, that trade will follow price levels. It does not follow flags; it does not follow nations; it follows price levels. It is a significant fact that the very persons who are most prone to use patriotism as a cloak for exploitation are the ones who fail to be patriotic in their own policies. Let it be noted most clearly that countries which are not British are giving to Britain very much better trade treaties than Canada is doing. Even now a comparison of our tariffs with those of Holland, Belgium, Sweden and Norway, to say nothing of Denmark, will disclose that all of those countries have lower tariffs against British goods than we have in Canada. Yet hon. members prone of patriotism, I ask them in all sincerity: Can we expect the United Kingdom, now that she has slung her net upon the mass vortex of tariffs, to give to us a better deal than she can afford to give to countries that are giving better deals to her? Let me use the words of F. W. Hirst as they best describe the situation: "Is a good customer turned into a poor one just because he happens to be a cousin or a brother; and is a good customer turned into a bad one just because he is a mere acquaintance or friend or neighbor?" That sums the matter up in a sentence.

If hon. gentlemen opposite are sincere in their attitude and honest in their patriotism—and I believe they are sincere—perhaps they have not seen the danger of their fiscal policy, so let me direct it to their attention in the hope that they may in the future be able to make the necessary changes to justify their patriotic aspirations. Until that time it is futile for them to appeal to anyone on patriotic grounds. I have seen foreign nations offering Great Britain better trade agreements, better trade terms than Canada does. So we have this conference whirling up not as a step towards worst trade with lowering barriers, with improved general world conditions, but in the contrary we have it well described by one of those brilliant British journalists as from within, "after four weeks of sleep, the crucifiers engaged therein relit without having accomplished their designs, but consoled with the honours of war in a peaceful formula and after exchanging gifts of goodwill." Another one, perhaps not so subtle in his references, but more direct in his language, said that this was merely "a compromise filled with the seed of future dispute and friction."

Let me be charged with being one of those unappreciated irreconcilable ultra tariff individuals. I would direct the attention of hon. members opposite to perhaps one of the most reputable institutions in the country, one of those institutions that our Ministers of Trade and Commerce (Mr. Bennett), our Prime Minister (Mr. Bennett), our Ottawa Journal and other responsible persons and journals are prone to quote with approval. I refer to the Bank of Nova Scotia, which has views that second entirely with mine in this matter. In its last monthly publication, it states, and I call this to the attention of the hon. member for Weyburn (Mr. Young):

High tariffs and rigid exchange restrictions in almost all countries have done more to retard the growth of the world trade and the volume of international commerce is quite inadequate for the discharge of present international financial obligations. The present volume of international trade is inadequate to provide for the current financial obligations, and yet this government in its intelligence, has taken steps to make it still more difficult for the nations of the world to do what their financial obligations. It is just one little more stone placed on top of the unfortunate, struggling world in its effort to get out of this morass of wrong trading principles and incorrect monetary policies. After the example that has been set by this conference, it is not one so optimistic as to expect that much can come out of a world conference even if the question of tariffs be permitted to be discussed, though I have no hesitation in saying that I see little immediate hope that the nations of the world are yet prepared to embrace a sane policy of trade expansion, or, indeed, any other policy than one of narrow economic nationalism. I am absolutely frank with hon. members opposite; I believe they are at the present moment standing with the majority, but let it be noted that this spirit, this attitude of defection, is equally and completely a prophecy of disaster. I see little hope, for example, that the powerful selfish interests within this nation, within Great Britain, France, Germany, Japan, or any of the other countries, are going to relinquish their grip upon the reins of government. I see no hope that the great manufacturing interests of Canada are going to cease their constant and relentless pressure on this administration, and I see no hope of this Conservative government realising them. That, perhaps, is the most tragic feature of the whole situation. I see no hope that the selfish interests of the nation or of the world are going to be held back in their steady process of world destruction. I see no immediate hope, but there is something of hope that men with broad minds and clear vision will observe what is happening: world trade reaching a vanishing point and out of that, irremediable economic disaster upon us all, every one of us involved in it, unable to escape from it. Well, Sir Arthur Sater has put what must be in better words than I can when he said in Foreign Affairs of October 1932:

The economic life of the world as it grows and finds expression through all the multitudinous activities of man, implies more and more world trade and a world order. It is incredible that government policies should permanently obstruct this natural and inevitable development. A world order must be established; economic nationalism must be a passing phase in the world's history. But as I say, I see no hope in Canada for at least two years; I see no hope in Britain until the next election, if any, then. But there is a little hope; there is just this one bit of hope that even hon. gentlemen opposite may at some time come to a realization of what their policies, followed, I agree, by the world, are doing to the world. Continued Next Week.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CROP PRICE GUARANTY

Take advantage of this offer . . .
Get the new equipment you need to reduce your production costs

Many farmers who need new machines for the economical production of their crops have been reluctant to buy them because of uncertainty as to the prices they will receive later in the year for these farm products. In order to meet this situation, the International Harvester Company of Canada, Ltd., offers to farmers purchasing machines after this date, a definite price guaranty on wheat based on 77 cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Winnipeg, applying to a liberal portion of the purchase price of the machine. If the market price for wheat does not reach the guaranteed price at the time payment becomes due on notes given and maturing this year, the purchaser of machines under the plan will receive a credit equal to the difference. Any farmer in Canada, regardless of where he lives or what he raises, can purchase McCormick-Deering farm machines under the terms of this offer.

This is your chance to replace worn-out and obsolete equipment on a favorable price basis. Let us explain the details of this remarkable plan and tell you just how to take advantage of it in equipping your farm with the new cost-reducing machines you need at a real saving.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT DEFEATED PRESIDENT HOOVER TUESDAY

Governor Roosevelt of New York State and Garner from Texas surely swept the boards in the Presidential election on Tuesday. For weeks past the "wise money" of the east has been very marked in its allegiance to Roosevelt.

While betting money is not any real guide especially in election contests in this case it was very decidedly in favor of a change.

The poor business conditions in the United States caused thousands of voters to change their political allegiance. The same thing happened in Canada a little over two years ago when R. B. Bennett created a land slide against Mackenzie King.

The Democrats are supposed to be exponents of a low tariff but Roosevelt did not build any picture of having a lower tariff upon farm products in which Canada is especially interested. In fact to the contrary he led the western American farmer to expect that farm products would be amply protected which if carried out is bad news for Canadians.

However Roosevelt is a believer in securing larger markets and such machinery may only be obtained by giving concessions.

Taking all in all the prospects for Canada may be claimed as being brighter in the election of Roosevelt rather than Hoover.

The candidates in the American elections both Roosevelt and Hoover were outstanding men and each proved a credit to their parties.

CARSELAND

On the night of November 2nd a high school Halloween party was held in the Carceland School Auditorium. The guests were received by a spooky ghost with silvery hands. As they entered the auditorium, which was hung with black and orange streamers, and goblins and "Howl" issued out of the dark corners, they were given fancy paper hats. Exciting games were then played, interspersed with dancing, music being provided by a radio. Prizes were awarded to the winners of games. At the strictly hour lunch was served by three of the High School girls, after which the party broke up, all expressing the wish that another such event would be held soon. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Hoover; Frances Robinson; Alex Woodrow; Paul Murphy; Bert Woodrow; Walter Crowe; Ida Christensen; Frances Jamieson; Hiram Melendy; Richard Bishop; Myrtle Christensen; Cag Volgt; Annie Christensen; Catherine Bishop; Cecil Cote; Carroll Christensen; Margaret Garlner; Edna Stinson; Mervin Nelson; Jack Cole; John Meyer; Blackie; Gladys Gussolly; Olga Saddle; Lucille Laurie; Annie Saddle; Harry Moore; Gladys Berquist; Gladys Standley; Patricia Laurie; Marian Longmuir; Helma Stinson; Doris Standley; Blair Fitch; Earl Berquist; Joe Cline; Frances Cole; Orville Fikela; Lily Strom.

The pupils of the High School after a week's strenuous work of weed pulling and leveling the ground have succeeded in making a fairly good clay tennis court. A tournament was drawn up to hold to date the weather conditions have prevented the finishing of it. Mr. Hoover has offered a prize to the winner.

On Wednesday, November 15th, a meeting of all the young people of the Carceland community is to be held at the home of Mr. Berquist for the purpose of organizing a young people's club to operate for the winter. All those interested are cordially invited to attend and help make it a success.

On Tuesday evening November 7th, the people of Carceland, far and near, after charivaring Mr. and Mrs. C. Thurler (nee Miss Emma Dick) gathered at the Dinton Hall and spent a pleasant evening dancing in honor of the occasion. In the course of the evening a purse of silver was presented to the bridegroom to which the groom suitably responded. The party broke up with all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Thurler a happy married life.

ELWOOD

L. S. Egan pulled in his threshing machine, the last storm. J. Akkerman of Strathmore is threshing for Joe Stun.

H. Hanson sent another truck load of spuds over east of here. Mr. Hanson has sold 175 hundred weight this fall.

Sven Swenson of the Crowfoot district is threshing for M. Mason.

Another two or three days would have cleaned up most of the threshing in this district.

Two large tame white geese disappeared out of a flock of grey ones last week.

Harold Lewin is a new pupil at the school.

Ardene Items

Mrs. J. M. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. B. Souter, Mr. Clarence Nelson, all of Calgary were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Nelson of Ardene over the weekend.

Miss Marguerite Edwards returned Sunday to her home after spending the past 12 months with her aunt in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. J. M. Lytle who has been very sick for a few weeks is now on the way to recovery. Her friends hope she will soon be her usual self once again.

Mr. R. S. Edwards has shipped his prize winning filly to the Pat Stock Show at Toronto, Ont.

Threshing was once again renewed over the week end with hopes the weather man, would be have just for a wee while.

We are awfully pleased to hear Mr. Harriman's son who met with such a painful accident, while threshing on the Harriman farm is just about fully recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Melnychuk have returned home after spending a few days in Calgary enjoying a brief honeymoon.

Aud can you tell me what were his last words? asked a reporter, who was collecting material for the obituary notice of a local celebrity. "He had no last words, was the reply, you had better just say his dear wife was with him to the end."

A Scotchman, visiting the motor show at Olympia, inquired the prices of the cars on each stand, he came to, and each time he passed on with a shudder. At last he came to a stand displaying cars of the baby type. Are these the free samples? he asked.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Nelson left on Tuesday evening to attend the Teachers Convention at Calgary.

CHEADLE

Mr. S. R. Loudonback, was removed last Tuesday to Calgary where he underwent an operation on his leg at the General Hospital. Mr. Loudonback was severely kicked by a horse and blood poisoning is developing. His many friends are hoping to hear of his safe recovery.

Miss Vera Dawson of Calgary spent the week end renewing old acquaintances in this district.

The C. G. T. held a very successful dance in aid of the Sunshine Fund on November 4th. The large crowd which attended this socially enjoyed the excellent music provided by Ken Manning's Pirates from Balmain.

Miss Florence Craig spent the week end with her parents.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR ALBERTA EXHIBITORS

The possibility of Alberta exhibitors in seed grain bringing home to the province a considerable sum of money in prizes within the next 107 months from four major exhibitions, is stressed by E. J.
Baker, provincial field crops commissioner. Mr. Gray points out that with the Alberta provincial seed fair, the Chicago International at grain show, the Royal winter fair at Toronto and the World's grain congress at London, 730 p.m.
July, totaling in prize money in seed grain more than $25,000, there should be a possibility of Alberta capturing the larger share of the money. Preparations are now under way for Toronto and Chicago, where most of Alberta's well known seed grain exhibitors will be showing, and also for the Regina Congress, for which enter-ence January 31. In this world show, all the old Alberta exhibitors and many new ones, including a large class of junior farmers, will be prominent with exhibits.

ARMISTICE PROGRAMME

And when the strife is fierce, the warfare long,
Steady as the rock our distant triumph song,
And hearts are brave again, and arms are strong,
Allesuia!

The golden evening brightens in the west;
Soon soon to faithful warriors comes their rest;
Sweet is the calm of Paradise the blest,
Allesuia!

But let these breakers a yet more glorious day;
The salute triumphant ring in bright array;
The King of glory passes on His way,
Allesuia!

From earth's wide bounds, from ocean's furthest coast,
Through gates of pearl streams in the countless host,
Shining to FATHER, SON and HOLY GHOST,
Allesuia!

"THE RECEPTIONAL"—THE CHOIR,
BENEDICTIO—ARCHDEACON SWANSON,
"GOD SAVE THE KING."

GOD save our gracious King,
Long live our noble King,
God save the King;
Send him Victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us:
God save the King.

Our loved Dominion bless
With peace and happiness
From shore to shore,
And let our Empire be United, loyal, free,
True to herself and Thee
For evermore. Amen

"ARMISTICE"

Over the broken dead,
Over the trenches and wire,
Barges of God rang out—
"Cease Fire!"

Woe to those Nations of Men
Who, in their heat or desire,
But that after order of God—
"Cease Fire!"

Frederick George Scott, Quebec, November 12th, 1928

A short Service will be held in the Memorial Hall Grounds at 10:45 on Friday, 11th November.

JUNIOR CLUB WORK GROWS

Junior farm work in Alberta has made rapid progress during the past few years under the active policy of encouragement by the provincial department of agriculture. Last year there were 61 clubs in all projects, and this year 125 clubs were organized in three projects in livestock and in grain.

This means that nearly 2000 farm boys and girls are learning the best methods of breeding and feeding livestock and raising grains. Of the grain and fodder clubs there are 70 with 25 clubs in livestock work.
